

Clive Evans is walking across Spain!

Will you sponsor him?

£1000 for 1000km for Cancer Research UK and the South American Mission Society

Clive will be on sabbatical from March to June, visiting South America first.

Then he will be walking in Spain, north from Seville to Finisterre, on the north-west coast.

The object of the walk is not fund-raising: it's a pilgrimage, but it seemed like too good an opportunity to miss!

The South American Mission Society you may not have heard of. It has a long and honourable record of working with marginalised Indian peoples in South America. It's an Anglican mission society. For several years, St. Lawrence's church, Long Buckby (where Clive lives and works) has supported Andrew and Maria Leake, based in northern Argentina and working for SAMS. Clive will be visiting them during his visit.

It would be great if you could sponsor him and see if we can raise £1000 each for SAMS and Cancer Research UK. You could simply go online and make a dona-

About the walk

Since the Middle Ages, people have been walking to Santiago. Clive will be following on one of the many pilgrimage routes, called the Via de la Plata. It's a journey of over 1000km and it will take seven weeks of walking about 25km each day.

About the charities

Cancer Research needs no introduction. It's the UK's largest cancer charity. Many of our lives are touched by cancer.

tion to one or both of these charities via the Charities Aid Foundation: www.cafonline.org.

Or, we can supply you with a gift envelope. Cliff Harper (01327 843958) will be handling things here.

If you tell Cliff about your donation, we can then publish the totals. Clive will report back on his return.
